

Incubating, and Then Financing, a Growing Nonprofit Theater

"It's always great when one of the programs that 'graduates' from FJC's fiscal sponsorship can become one of our borrowers," says Laura Hoffman, Program Manager of FJC's Fiscal Sponsorship Program. This summer, FJC closed a loan to the nonprofit In[Heir]itance Project, which works with intergenerational, intersectional, and interfaith communities to develop collaborative theater projects inspired by shared cultural touchstones. The loan represented a satisfying "second act" in the relationship between FJC and the nonprofit, which had previously been incubated at FJC as a fiscally sponsored project.

Read More

Blog: Making the Case for FJC's Boutique Approach to DAFs

As an account holder at FJC, you've made the choice to work with a sponsor of DAFs that allows you to take a more personalized and customized approach to your philanthropy. In this blog post, CEO Sam Marks lists some of the reasons account holders choose the boutique path, including a few "pro tips" that may be appealing to longtime donors who have not yet tapped all of FJC's expertise and capabilities.

Read More

Welcome New Staff

This summer FJC welcomed Natalie Cimino as Program Assistant and Sophia Trombold as Grants Administrator. Please join us in welcoming them to the team!

Read More

Account Statements

As always, quarterly statements (for period ending 6/30/22 and earlier) are available at our donor portal.

Click Here to Access the Donor Portal

Keep In Touch

We welcome your feedback. Please contact CEO Sam Marks if this newsletter sparks any ideas!

Know someone who ought to be learning about what's possible at FJC? Please forward this newsletter to them and encourage them to sign up to receive our next issue!

